McAdoo Offers Cordial Support to John W. Davis

Believes Nominee Will Execute Mandates of Party.

SAILS FOR EUROPE

Californian Disparages Reports That He is Fighting Nominee—Davis, Man of Character.

By Associated Press

NEW YORK, July 12—William GibbseMcAdoo in a statement today, said he would give John W Davis cordial support and participate in the campaign

"I am satisfied that Davis is in accord with the progressive program outlined in the Democratic platform and confident that as president he would faithfully execute the party's mandate, he declared

Referring to criticisms from some quarters against Davis because of his connection with certain interests as a lawyer, McAdoo said "Davis is a man of high character and integrity and his services should satisfy every apprehension of this sort If I did not believe this," continued McAdoo "I could not render him my aid because I have always believed that the interests of the people should never be subordinated to Parish partisanship The influence of power by these progressive forces must not be dissipated by a division into various political movements but must rather be consolidated and used like an irresistible battering ram by that party which offers the best instrumentality for service to the people'

McAdoo gave out the statement as he sailed for Europe with his wife and two daughters for a six weeks vacation

GAS FLOWS FROM DRY BED OF LAKE

Gaseous Flames of Paraffine Composition Flowing From Tule Lake

Associated Press

KLAMATH FALLS Oregon Eight vents emitting natural gas have suddenly opened in the dry bed of Tule Lake 30 miles east of here Tests by J D Howard, a local geologist, show the gas to be of paraffine variety Flames more than a foot in length, burning with intense heat, are reported to have been obtained in tests The vents or chimneys range in diameter from six to 30 inches and are several feet deep

Between August 5 and 10 last year water disappeared from eight sections of Tule Lake bed Howard contends that nature is disproving the statements of some geologists that this area is burnt out by volcanic action Three oil companies are drilling on the same structure running through the lake bed All three wells are reported to have shown indications of oil

Wife Goes to Movies, Hubby Seeks Divorce

Associated Press

VIENNA—The movies figured here recently in two divorce cases In one instance the husband accused his wife of having neglected her home over her craze for seeing the movies, and of having maltreated her children as a result of having seen cruel forms of punishment in the movies The wife denied being influenced by the motion picture drama, but the divorce was nevertheless granted

In the second case a merchant complained that he could no longer afford to eat in restaurants and hotels, because his wife had the movie craze and neglected cooking, housekeeping and her husband In this case, too the court granted a divorce, and particularly stated that the defendant had seriously neglected her household duties through her frequentation of the theatre and movies."

NOETOWN DANCE ENDS IN FIGHT; TWO ARRESTED

Trouble Brings Outdoor Dance to a Speedy Close.

PISTOLS ARE DRAWN

Ridley Jones Reported Beaten; Another Man Arested—Promoters to Be Tried

Scenes similar to those frequently enacted in the frontier dance halls as seen in the movies occurred at Noetown last night when a fracas which threatened to terminate in a free for all fight brought an end to an outdoor dance More than a score of guns were drawn according to reports one man was badly beaten and the proprietors of the place will likely be brought to trial for promoting the event

An outdoor platform was used for the dance which was one of a series designed to furnish nocturnal entertainment to the pleasure loving people of the West End section Some reports are to the effect that the occasion was generally enlivened by artificial stimulants, other witnesses to the drinking was confined solely to the two unfortunate who fell prey to the law

At any rate Ridley Jones is reported to have started something just what it was no one seem to know but it is understood that he was the aggressor in the earlier stages of the trouble Tom Cinnamon and his deputies who constitute the law enforcement squad of Noetown saw fit to arrest Mr Jones

The constable and his deputy drew them guns to quell the disorder one witness stated Looking around the circle I saw at least twenty five men with drawn guns A shot from one would have started a general massacre but no one discharged his weapon'

After Jones had been handcuffed according to reports he was severely beaten by men in the crowd After this he was taken to an auto securely roped, and brought to the city jail and incarcerated on charge of disorderliness

Chief H E Bolton cited this morning that proceeding, were under way to arrest Newton Shackleford George Assed and Lester Martin and try them on charges of maintaining a public nuisance

The Noetown dance platform is about fifty feet beyond the confines of the city A number of complaint have been heard from the officers by people of the vicinity who do not approve of the outdoor dances The matter of jurisdiction for the cases against the proprietors has not been decided though Chief Bolton says that the city court has jurisdiction over cases a short distance outside the city limits They will probably be tried Monday

Judge Would Make Divorce Easy, Marriage Difficult

BY JUDGE I O HATHCOCK

Judge of the Municipal Court Atlanta

ATLANTA Ga July 12—I think marriages throughout the United States should be made more difficult so that divorces can be easier obtained when they are necessary and I do not think I am a bit radical about my viewpoint

At present our divorce courts are crowded with hundreds of cases that are there because marriage was so easy, and afterwards finding themselves all mated it is difficult for unhappy men and women to get free of each other

Divorce is a splendid thing when two people find they cannot live together

It is my belief that a union should be dissolved if it is clearly demonstrated that the man and woman never were suited for each other I do not mean that I favor promiscuous divorces, because I don't

I believe that if the marriage laws were strengthened and it were much harder to get married than it is today, the divorce courts would find time hanging on their hands with nothing to do

Publication of marriage banns for at least 30 days prior to the marriage in newspapers and posting of the banns in the courthouses of the country, just like they do in Europe would be one means of safeguarding marriages. It would absolutely stop hasty marriages and elopements—the greater majority of which end in the divorce court

Then there should be a penalty attached to false swearing as to the physical condition etc, in the application for marriage license and the father mother or legal guardian of both parties should be required to swear that the statements made in the application are true

As it is now statements about age can be made falsely and nothing can be done about it because there is no penalty for false swearing

A certificate of sound health, specifying that there is no physical or mental reason why the party should not be married should be presented by both parties from a reputable physician who has made a thorough examination of both before the license should be granted

Uniform marriage laws throughout the country, as well as uniform divorce laws, some day will be placed on the statute books, and when they are marriage will be much harder and divorce much easier

Until that time however, I think that the states themselves should look into the matter of ending so many hundreds of divorces each year This can only be accomplished by making the marriage laws more stringent

People who consider marriage some time before they actually take the step are pretty nearly certain to "stick it out," but those that just get married' on the spur of the moment are keeping our divorce courts crowded, and it should be cleared up now

YOUNG MAN DEAD, TWO HURT IN AFFRAY

Conflicting Stories Told of Battle in "No Man's Land.

KNIFE, PISTOL USED

Two Held on $5,000 Bond Each; Hearing Will Be Monday Morning at Greenville

Associated Press

GREENVILLE Tenn July 11—Burney Ricker 22 years old shot his brother Melvin Ricker 24 years old is shot in the leg and is killed in the arm and Hall Jennings 40 years old is suffering from a blow on the head from a rock allegedly thrown at night late yesterday afternoon at a house owned by Jennings and occupied by Melvin Ricker a tenant on Jennings Farm Ricker died two hours after the fight in Greenville hospital The tragedy took place in a narrow strip known as No Mans Land, from the sixth killing there in two years the first two victims being Lar on North and Luke Biddle who were wounded fatally when in the home of Jim Mosley near the scene of yesterdays killing

Burney and Melvin Ricker and Sandy Reaves who were with them at the time of the fight are said to have been drinking while Jennings has the reputation of being a sober man

Yesterday afternoon Jennings and Dan Ricker a brother of the slain man passed the house occupied by Melvin Ricker on their way from Jim Marshalls house where they had been to look at an auto

According to the story Ed Jennings says when he and Dan Ricker got to the Ricker yard Burney Ricker and Melvin Ricker came to the fence and said Wes been living for you, now we've got you Jennings said he thought at first the men were joking, but that he was pulled from his saddle and a pocket in his shirt containing three one dollar bills was torn out He passed his assailants not to hurt him as he had not even a knife with which to defend himself He said that when he got free from Burney Ricker he tried to run but that the three piled on him and that during the scuffle Melvin Ricker and his wife said that Jennings got off his horse and began talking to Mr Ricker who urged him to leave which he refused to do, and followed the men to the house when a fight ensued during which Jennings stabbed Burney and Melvin Ricker, and that Melvin Ricker was wounded in the leg when a pistol in his own pocket was fired Mrs Ricker said that Jennings at last threw his knife away and tried to run pursued by Burney Ricker who threw two rocks one striking Jennings on the head She said that she had held off her husband and that Tom Ricker was holding Reaves but that her husband broke away and tried to prevent Jennings from stabbing Burney Ricker and was himself wounded instead

At a hearing this morning before Judge I O Lane Melvin Ricker and Jennings were released on a $5,000 bond on a murder charge and on a bond of $1,500 on a felonious assault charge The preliminary trial will be held Monday morning at 10 o'clock

RAILROAD OPENS BOLIVIAN RICHES

New Link of Steel Makes Possible Access to Petroleum and Minerals

By Associated Press

BUENOS AIRES—Railroad access to rich territory in southern Bolivia has been made effective by the opening of a stretch of new line connecting the Bolivian town of Tupiza with the Argentine state railroad system at the border town of La Quiaca. Bolivian products of this region, including petroleum and various minerals, can now be transported by rail to Buenos Aires or to ports on the Parana river

Within another year this line will have been extended northward to Atocha where it will connect with existing rail line to La Paz, the Bolivian capital and provide a new outlet for the foreign commerce of the entire country, which now has to go by the Pacific ports of Africa and Antofagasta in Chile, and Mollendo in Peru It will also make it possible to travel from Buenos Aires to Lima, Peru, by rail except for the boat trip across Lake Titicaca and will complete another link in the projected Pan American rail route from Buenos Aires to New York

Prison Official Bewails Shortage Convict Printers

Stillwater, Minn, July 2—Not one of the 1 061 inmates of the Minnesota penitentiary at Stillwater has had any experience as a printer This knowledge was gained through a query published in the Mirror, the prison weekly, as the printing plant was in need of help and hoped to recruit its force from among the convicts This is the way the Mirror bewailed the fact that the labor shortage in the prison would continue if printer inmates were depended upon for relief

"Due to the fact that we did not receive any replies to our 'ad' for a printer, we have come to the conclusion that, taking it all in all, printers must rate pretty high in citizenship. One would think that in a population that boasts (?) of representatives of nearly all of the trades and professions (even to that of the clergy) there would be no difficulty in finding a printer But alas and alack! when one seeks a printer in the Silent City his troubles begin."

THE SOUTH AND CHILD LABOR

The Georgia legislature has rejected the proposed constitutional amendment designed to pave the way for passage of a federal child labor statute that will stand the test of the courts. As what Georgia has done can be taken as fairly indicative of what other southern states will do, fair warning is given the advocates of the amendment to undertake vigorous efforts to secure ratification in the northern states, and in the west and southwest, where opposition is not as pronounced as it is in the south.

The south has been the greatest beneficiary from the exploitation of child labor. This fact coupled with its traditional attitudes on state's rights leads it to resent the proposed federal intervention for the protection of the child. But if the south's self interest, as it conceives it lies on the side of perpetuation of child labor, that of the states in other sections of the country no less certainly demands its abolition, and they should govern themselves accordingly.

Sentiment in the northern industrial states has long been opposed to the exploitation of the child, and child labor would long ago have been abolished in all of them were it not for its persistence in the south, which meant, in effect, that its abolition in the north by statutes at all stringent enough would still further handicap northern industry.

The greatest northern textile industry, for instance, has found itself disadvantageously situated as compared with that of the south, even without the advantage the latter has reaped through unrestricted employment of child labor. The southern industry is closer to the raw materials; it has abundant water power; it has labor that averages much cheaper than that available in the north. If it is permitted to enjoy indefinitely the right to exploit its children in the mills, it will be only a question of time when it will kill the northern textile industry. If economic conditions demand the transfer of this industry to the south, well and good. But the transfer should not be permitted to be effected by exploitation of the childhood of a group of states to the ultimate deteriment of the nation.

Outside the south there is little difference of opinion on the subject of child labor. It is agreed that it should be rigorously restricted. Congress has shared this view, if the courts had not declared it unconstitutional. A similar law could stand the test of the courts under the amendment now proposed. It should, and it doubtless will, be approved. But the speedy action of the Georgia legislature in rejecting it makes clear that it can only be approved despite the opposition of the south. —Marquette (Mich.) Mining Journal.

BETTER TIMES JUST AHEAD

Efforts to maintain a healthy relationship between production and consumption have resulted in another sharp recession in the output of manufactured goods. Unemployment, too, has shown a consequent increase, but while there has been a widespread curtailment of operating time which automatically spells lessened earnings by the workers, wage rate reductions have been comparatively few.

Sentiment in the iron and steel industry has improved. Here and there evidences of renewed buying are seen. Conditions in the Mahoning Valley are reported to be brightening perceptibly.

Dominating features of the downward movement of business have been its rapidity and its orderliness. Within three months plant operations in many instances have been reduced to points which are as remarkable for their depth as the early spring expansions were for the heights to which they carried. Regardless of this there have been few evidences the country generally there has been a determination to avoid anything even remotely re-sembling a rout.

The rapidity of the change is directly in line with present methods of doing business; methods which favor quick movement either of expansion or contraction, and which are capable of effecting within a few months realignments which previously required a year or more, thus adjusting production without delay to visible consumption.

Promptness in beginning the balancing job when anticipated also failed to materialize sufficiently to keep pace with expanded production was responsible in no small degree for the methodical nature of the movement. The absence of heavy inventories was also a material aid. Sound financial conditions capable of supplying abundant credit proved a stabilizing influence. Moreover, industry has not been so free in years from the restricting obstacles of shortages of labor, transportation service and equipment and raw materials.

But the biggest factor of all has been the faith in the ability of the American people to buy what they need, plus the knowledge that while the demand for goods may be delayed in reaching the factories, it is bound to arrive eventually and that hallows caused by slack production will have to be filled.

In viewing the present business situation it seems fair to remember these things, particularly at a time when it is easy to see disturbing developments to the exclusion of those which favor renewed activity. Monthly Business Review.

HUNT'S DAILY LETTER

BY HARRY B. HUNT

NEW YORK.—Well, the Democratic convention, as might have been expected when Tex Rickard arranged to have it held in Madison Square Garden, was a knockout.

It broke all records for number of sessions, number of ballots, amount of money spent by delegates, for high hopes wrecked and animosities engendered.

The total expended in dollars and cents to stage the Democratic contest, exclusive of delegates' expenses, according to the New York convention committee, was somewhat in excess of $800,000.

This committee had arranged its expenditures on the basis of a convention not exceeding two weeks in duration. When the deadlock carried the sessions over into the third week, the local committee passed the further financing to the Democratic National Committee.

As the committee had a balance in the bank of only about $100,000, it immediately began to prune expenses and to put on the pressure to bring about a nomination. Most of the office were discharged, the lights diminished and corners cut generally in an effort to save pennies for the later expenses of the campaign. Enough was saved out of cash on hand to pay for the auditing of the convention's bills and to move Democratic headquarters back to Washington.

To provide cash for the campaign ahead however, the Victory Clubs will have to be called on for contributions. No $5 check will be rejected!

The selection of Davis as the candidate with which to oppose Coolidge puts the campaign on an intellectual level seldom reached in American politics. That is, so far as the personal qualities of the two men at the top of their respective tickets go.

Neither is of what is generally known as the politician type.

Davis, A. B., LL. B., LL. D., carries one university degree more than Coolidge, who simply boasts A. B., and LL. D.

Also, Davis has mixed about a lot more than Coolidge. He has been a "joiner" to the extent of being a Mason and an Elk. Coolidge never has allied himself with an extra-fraternal order.

Although both are lawyers by profession, Coolidge has spent more time holding office than Davis and Davis more time practicing law than Coolidge. As a lawyer, Davis carries international as well as national recognition, having been made, during his term as Ambassador to the Court of St. James, an Honorary Bencher of the Middle Temple!

Much has been said recently about Davis' employment as counsel for Wall Street interests, including J. P. Morgan & Co. This inevitably will be made one of the points of opposition during the campaign.

As a balance to this, emphasis is placed by Davis' backers on the fact that he once was attorney, without fee or retainer, for Eugene Debs and Mother Jones.

This was back in the days when Davis, a young lawyer without clients had just hung out his shingle at Clarksburg, W. Va.

Debs and Mother Jones came to town to take a hand in a campaign to organize mine workers thereabouts. West Virginia mine owners then as now, didn't want their workers organized, and also controlled, then as now, the local authorities.

So Debs and Mother Jones were arrested on some technical charge and put behind the bars. Young Davis saw a chance to try out some of his newly acquired legal technique. His friends however, insist that what moved him was a sense of injustice in the strong-arm methods employed by the mine owners.

Anyway, he went over to the jail, volunteered his services to the union workers and shortly had them free again. That story, doubtless will be told with much emphasis in union circles during the campaign.

Touring Cars Figure In Campaign Contest

A unique contest campaign is being used by the Epworth League of the M. E. Church, South, to build up the membership. The league is divided into four parts, each being named after a make of car. Nash, Buick, Chevrolet and Overland are the cars representing the groups. Acquisition of a new member advances the particular car representing that group one mile. Nineteen members were added to the League last Sunday. Talk and music has been arranged.

THE TEXT FOR THE ELEVEN O'CLOCK SERVICE

"He that saith he abideth in Him ought himself so to walk even as He walked."

This text is a heart searcher. Come and let us examine its meaning and take and observe its effect on us.

THE TEXT FOR THE EVENING SERVICE

"For God sent not his Son into the world to condemn the world but that the world through Him might be saved."

Did you ever think of what an unpopular word "condemnation" is? Salvation is to the unregenerate heart almost equally distasteful. Think it over. This outlines the discussion.

PLAIN GOSPEL PREACHING AND A WARM WELCOME FOR ALL

OF HARLAN, KENTUCKY

WILL PREACH AT BOTH MORNING AND EVENING SERVICES

Dr. Black was our former Secretary of State Sunday School Work, and one of the best. He is a man in great demand in all our denominational meetings.

It was under his leadership that Harlan Baptists erected a $150,000.00 church building, having 100 or more Sunday School class rooms and one among the finest buildings, both in size and architectural designs in the Southland.

Let's not miss hearing Dr. Black at either service. Come, bring your friends, invite visitors and strangers. Come with someone, and

Fourteen Hits in Seven Games is "Bib" Falk's Record

White Sox Outfielder Goes to Head American League.

HAS AVERAGE OF .372

Was Fifth In Batting Average Two Weeks Ago—Babe Ruth Is In Second Place With Average of .365

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, July 12.—A sensational drive that produced fourteen hits in seven games rushed "Bib" Falk" outfielder with the Chicago White Sox, to the batting leadership of the American League today with an average of .372.

Falk was fifth in the rating a week ago, with an average of .345. Although his hitting efforts were confined to spaces within fences, five of his safe blows were two baggers. He averaged two hits a game for the last week and is showing no inclination to relinquish the lead.

Babe Ruth is clinging to second place with an average of .365, with Jamieson of Cleveland third with .363. The lille Boone of Boston is up among the pace makers with .351, followed by Cobb of Detroit in fifth place with .345. Goslin of Washington and Sheely of Chicago have been doing some telling work with their bats and Harry Heilmann of the Tigers, who set the pace almost since the start of the season, is getting no worse.

Ruth added two home runs to his collection, bringing it up to twenty-two. He is in no apparent danger of being overtaken as he is eight ahead of Ken Williams of St. Louis and Hauser of Philadelphia.

Collins of Chicago has not much competition on the bases, the White Sox captain having pilferred 21, the figures including games of last Wednesday.

Other leading batters: Goslin, Washington .344; Sheely, Chicago .338; Heilmann, Detroit .337; Prothro, Washington .333; Mostil, Chicago .322; Meusel, New York .331; Collins, Boston .331.

The hitting in the National league has been consistent, if not sensational. The leaders remain undisturbed with Hornsby of St. Louis showing the way with .392, Wheat of Brooklyn batting second with .379, and Snyder of the Giants third with .354. Kelly also of the Giants is fourth with .351.

Bressler of Cincinnati grabbed off a flock of hits before Daubert returned to the game and the substitute first sacker of the Reds therefore figures among the first five with .346.

Although Fournier of Brooklyn has been swinging a mean club in long distance hitting, he has sagged in general average. Fournier has connected with 17 homers, while Williams of Philadelphia and Hornsby are tied for second honors with nine apiece.

Carey of Pittsburgh has been setting a sensational pace in base stealing, leading with twenty, with Grantham of Chicago second with seventeen.

Other leading batters: Gowdy, New York .346; Youngs, New York, .345; Roush, Cincinnati .345; Fournier, Brooklyn .337; Grisby, Chicago .335; Grantham, Chicago .326; Frisch, New York .325.

The race for premier batting honors of the American Association has developed into a three cornered scrap involving Brief of Kansas City, and Dressen and Neun of St. Paul. Brief at present is leading the third man by four points. He is batting .395, Neun .393 and Dressen with .391.

Hass of St. Paul furnished the sensation of the home run clouters, going up from six to ten within a week. Reb Russell of Columbus added one and leads with fourteen. He is closely pursued by Smith of Louisville, who has compiled a dozen. Haas is now tied with Brief, who also added one to his total.

Neun, in addition to having looked after his batting average has added 14 stolen bases for a total of twenty-nine.

Other leading batters: Allen, Indianapolis .361; Christenbury, Indianapolis .359; Shanno, Louisville .346; Smith, Minneapolis .346; Brooks, Columbus .346; Russell, Columbus .345; Maguire, Toledo .337; Bell, Milwaukee .335.

Batters of the Southern Association have been unable to jar Smith of Atlanta loose from the top of the heap. He has receded slightly in percentage, but still is an easy first with .382, followed by Carlisle of Memphis with .369, and Lapan of Little Rock .355. Lapan and Carlisle switched positions within the last week.

The heavy clouting of Anderson of Chattanooga livened up the race for home run honors. He connected with three, giving him a total of fifteen. Paschal of Atlanta seems to be Anderson's only rival, but he is still three behind, having been able to hook up with one during the week.

No one caught up with Marriott of Mobile in stolen bases, although Stewart of Birmingham is hanging on grimly. Marriott is leading with 32, while Stewart's total is 25.

Other leading batters: Paschal, Atlanta .350; Burns, Atlanta .350; Yaryan, Memphis .349; D. Williams, Mobile .346; R. Williams, Mobile .346; Gayon, Little Rock .343; Stewart, Birmingham .342; Barber, Memphis .341; Taylor, Memphis .338.

Cullop of Omaha pushed himself to second place in batting race of the Western League with an average of .385, threatening to challenge Lamb of Tulsa, who is leading with .389. Dunning of Wichita is third with .379.

Cullop registered four home runs during the week, giving him a total of 21, which ties Davies of Tulsa, and is only two removed from Washburn, also of Tulsa, who is setting the pace. Washburn chalked up his 100th run, the first of the flock to reach that figure. His 23 home runs naturally cut a large figure in his scoring.

Although Corrigan of St. Joseph made a gallant attempt, he has not been getting any nearer, to Smith of Wichita in stolen bases ,each pilfering three, which gives the Wichita speed marvel twenty-eight.

Other leading batters: Austin, Tulsa .370; Lelivelt, Tulsa .368; O'Brien, Denver .367; Robinson, Omaha .363; Davis, Tulsa .363; Washburn, Tulsa .361; Miller, St. Joseph .361; Butler, Wichita .355; Luderus, Oklahoma City .355.

NOTHING IS DOING ON JINX NUMBER "13"

Numbering Ball Players Don't Work Out In Practice.

RENIGS ON NUMBER

No One Ready to Face the Hoodoo, So Moguls Jump From Twelve to Fourteen.

Associated Press.

NEW ORLEANS. The Southern Association's scheme of numbering baseball players in the manner adopted by football elevens, tried out for the first time this year, has worked nicely in theory but poorly in practice, if the experience of New Orleans is that of other cities in the circuit. Trouble was scented before the playing season began when the players let it be known they would quit the team if asigned the hoodoo number "13" but the moguls got around that point by dropping "13" and jumping from "12" to "14."

There was speculation about what would happen if two players swapped shirts, the numbers are sewed on the shirts, or if the home club in having box scores and line-up forms printed for sale among the stands got the numbers mixed. These things have come about, and the box scores of games kept by New Orleans fans have been badly scrambled at times.

A recent instance occurred when Merz pitched to Memphis in a game against the local club. Every one, including the official scorer, had Rogers on the mound because the number on Merz' shirt was the number assigned to Rogers. The box score as published in the New Orleans newspaper, represented by the official scorer and sent out on the press wires, showed Rogers pitching. There happened to be a Memphis sport writer on the scene and sent in his account of the game wired to his paper, had Merz instead of Rogers in the line-up. The box score on the press wires was questioned by Memphis and after members of the Memphis club had been routed out of their beds it was learned that Merz had taken the drubbing credited to Rogers.

Fred Graff, of the Nashville club, Southern Association player for 15 or 18 years, came on the field recently wearing the number assigned to Bert Griffith, former New Orleans player. The crowd razzed Graff throughout the game in the belief that he was the former Pelican. Dozens of fans have been heard to remark that "so and so make a beautiful catch," or "so and so is dumb," and utter other expressions encountered only in baseball parks when the subject of the discourse was not even with the team that trip.

Incendiary Rocket—League of Nations Please Take Notice.

LONDON, July —A winged incendiary rocket which the inventor, Ernest Welch, declares will spread a rain of molten metal over a wide area with devastating results, has been given preliminary tests with satisfactory results, according to persons who were present. Full government tests are to be made shortly.

The British, French and American governments have displayed interest in the invention, it is fleclared, and a definite offer is reported to have been received from America. Mr. Welch asserts that the explosion of the rocket will destroy everything in its range penetrating even steel and asbestos.

LOST: ONE ISLAND PLEASE RETURN

Dutch Islands In Philippines Are Sought By the United States.

By Associated Press.

MANILA, July —The United States government has entered into negotiations with the Netherlands government to bring under the American flag Palmas Island, situated about 50 miles southeast of the province of Davao, Island of Mindanao.

Palmas Island was ceded to the United States by Spain in the treaty of Paris in 1898, but the Dutch flag which has flown over it for nearly a century, has never been taken down. Although the people of Palmas are virtually all of Filipino origin and the island a part of the Philippine archipelago, the Dutch have assumed sovereignty over the 500 inhabitants.

STUDENTS ARE STUNNED BY INCOME TAX

Yankee Students Must Pay On Incomes Like Germans.

HAVE NO REDRESS

Consular Officials Are Unable to Extend Aid—Refuse Passport Vise.

By Associated Press.

BERLIN, July Several thousand foreign students in Germany, among them many Americans, were stunned recently when the government let it be known that students were not exempt from paying the ten percent income tax which is imposed upon Germans and foreigners alike. The students contend that it was always understood among them that as their incomes were derived from private sources, and not from any business carried on within Germany, the government had no intention of taxing them in any form whatsoever.

The question came to a head recently when an American, who had been studying in Dresden for two years, applied for a vise on his passport which would permit him to leave Germany. The vise was refused on the ground that the student could show no receipt indicating that he had paid a tax on the income derived from his folks at home. An appeal was made to the United States consular officials, but they were unable to aid him in his predicament.

Other Americans in Berlin, Heidelberg and other university towns, since have also taken the matter up with the United States consular officials, contending that as they were under the impression that they would not have to pay the income taxes here they ha dspent the money from home as fast as it came and as they have no reserve funds on hand to pay the German government the amounts they demand, they are at a loss now what step to take next. It is estimated that there are approximately 400 American students here who have been attending the various universities.
